

Anissa Lahreche is a Senior Commercial Specialist at the U.S. Embassy in Doha, Qatar. Ms. Lahreche joined the Foreign Commercial Service in August 2007. She has worked for the United States Government since 1996, both in Qatar and Algeria. Prior to taking up her present position, Mrs. Lahreche was the Purchasing and Contracting Assistant at the General Services Office. She holds a BA in British Civilization and American Literature from the University of Algiers, Algeria

Mrs. Lahreche facilitates business contacts for U.S and Qatari firms in the following sectors: Power Generation, ICT, Education, Health, Consumer Goods and Franchising. She provides a full range of commercial services in these sectors, including: International Partner Search, International Market Insight, International Sector Analysis, Gold and Platinum Key Service, International Corporate Profile. Mrs. Lahreche organizes Embassy Doha's International Buyer Program, recruiting and leading Qatari firms to trade events in the United States.